5 THINGS TO CONSIDER

1 WHY RETURN?

Britney Spears is Heading to Las Vegas

One of pop music's biggest superstars revealed the much anticipated announcement with a live interview on ABC's Good Morning America. Britney will usher in a new era of entertainment in Las Vegas along with the New Year, as the new show debuts over New Year Eve weekend on December 27, 2013. "Britney: Piece of Me" is not only for the die hard fans, but for anyone who enjoys pop theatre at its finest. Presented in a fully reconstructed theatre at Planet Hollywood Resort and Casino, the show will feature one of the largest indoor immersive stage productions in the world, creating what will be the most cutting edge pop concert experience ever produced in Vegas.

2 WHERE TO STAY

MGMGRAND Expands

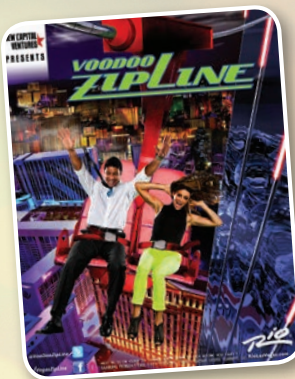

MGM Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas and Delos, the pioneer of Wellness Real Estate, continue to set the standard in healthy hospitality with the expansion of Stay Well, the world's first-ever wellness hotel rooms. After an overwhelming positive response and strong occupancy since inception, Stay Well MGM Grand is expanding from 42 to 171 rooms and suites to encompass the entire 14th floor of the Hotel's main tower.

3 WHERE TO PLAY

Nightspot get Makeover

Legendary Nightspot Ghostbar at Palms Casino Resort receives a SLEEK Makeover. This amazing nightclub is located on the 55th floor of the Ivory Tower at Palms Casino Resort. On October 19th the return of Ghostbar Dayclub (GBDC) is the cold weather answer to the wildly popular pool parties. Promising to amp up its exuberant daytime escapades to match the sleek and sexy new look of the hot spot that elevated Palms to the spotlight of Vegas nightlife, the Ghostbar has been given a head to toe makeover in a palette of black, white and striking fuchsia. With Murano-style chandeliers, smooth leather banquettes with ornate wood carved legs, 14-foot floor-to-ceiling windows and signature panoramic views of the strip surrounded by lush greenery on the skydeck, Ghostbar's new look brings it back to the upper echelon of Las Vegas nightlife.

4 WHY NOT?

Voodoo Ziplines

VooDoo Zip Line soars into Rio All Suite Hotel and Casino in early November 2013. This will be Las Vegas' first and only zipline attraction to offer breathtaking views of the world-renowned Las Vegas Strip. The Las Vegas attraction will begin on the patio of the VooDoo Steakhouse, located on the 50th floor of The Masquerade Tower, and will propel riders at speeds of 22 miles per hour. Guests will make a return trip back to the starting point, traveling backwards at 20 miles per hour. The feet dangling, adrenaline rush will accommodate 2 riders at once, more that 490 feet above the ground.

5 WHAT NOT TO MISS

Pink Jeep Tours Offers Red Rock Canyon Trip

Pink Jeep Tours Las Vegas launches the new Red Rock Tour in iconic open air Jeep Wranglers. Out-of-this-world seclusion allows one to take a moment from life and appreciate the beautiful nature of the Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area. For the first time, the tour includes a scenic drive and off road tour, and even an optional horseback ride.

The 'Boys Are Back in Town

NFR returns to Las Vegas December 5 - 14 at Thomas & Mack

Rodeo's top stars are once again ready to saddle up in Las Vegas for the sport's biggest annual spectacle, the 52 Annual Wranglers National Finals Rodeo, set for Dec. 5-14 at Thomas & Mack Center.

The world's best cowboys will compete in bareback riding, steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, barrel racing and bull riding during the 10-day season-ending championship event of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Trevor Brazile of Decatur, Texas, is back atop the leaderboard in earnings this year and is looking to continue his dominance at NFR, where he has won seven consecutive All-Around World Championship crowns. Last year, Brazile won his seventh Wrangler NFR all-around gold buckle, breaking the record he had shared with Ty Murray and Tom Ferguson. Brazile has won 17 world titles and earned more than $4.5 million on the PRCA circuit.

Along with rodeo's premier event returning to Las Vegas – home to the NFR since 1985 – enthusiasts can also get into the cowboy culture through various concerts and events that coincide with NFR.

Country and pop music's biggest stars will be performing in Las Vegas during the NFR, including Shania Twain, Wynonna, Gretchen Wilson, Dwight Yoakam, Willie Nelson, Justin McBride, Merle Haggard, Montgomery Gentry with the Charlie Daniels Band, the Black Crowes, Beyonce, Third Eye Blind and more.

The interactive Cowboy FanFest at the Las Vegas Convention Center, adjacent to the Cowboys Christmas Gift Show, is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and showcases the western lifestyle, including world champion livestock, NFR contestant autograph sessions and more. There is no admission and it's a great precursor to each night's excitement.

Several resorts also host after parties following the live performances, attended by the rodeo stars. The Mirage hosts Rodeo Vegas, the official after party every night throughout NFR. Admission is free with live entertainment each night. The MGM Grand, Gold Coast and South Point resorts also host nightly events.

For more on the Wrangler NFR, check out ProRodeo.com.

Pop Icon Moves into Planet Hollywood

Britney Spears performing greatest hits and more

Pop diva Britney Spears will showcase her signature style and high energy in her much anticipated Las Vegas show, “Britney: Piece of Me” inside Planet Hollywood.

Beginning Friday, Dec. 27, Britney’s show will include songs from her 15-plus years of chart-topping hits and some of her most infectious dance numbers, along with tracks from her eighth studio album.

Celebrating the pop star’s massive success, “Britney: Piece of Me” couples a high-energy concert with a pulsating, nightclub feel. Planet Hollywood’s venue houses the world’s largest indoor projection theater and offers an explosive, theatrical experience. Show goers can relive their favorite Britney moments, all while dancing the night away.

“I’m going to definitely do the greatest hits, but I’m going to have to put some of my new material in it to just keep it fresh,” Spears said on a recent interview on “Good Morning America”.

The award-winning superstar has sold one hundred million albums worldwide and garnered a string of hits including “Baby One More Time,” “(You Drive Me) Crazy,” “Oops!...I Did It Again,” “I’m A Slave 4 U,” “Toxic,” and “Womanizer,” among others. Britney’s Las Vegas show is slated for a two-year residency, with the possibility of an extended run.

Tickets range from $66.50 to a Meet & Greet package for $2,500, and are available on ticketmaster.com

Go Green at McFadden's

Great food and atmosphere served up 24/7 at Town Square

Irish eyes are always smilin' at McFadden's Restaurant and Saloon at Town Square in Las Vegas, and you'll be smiling, too, once you try the authentic Irish cuisine and soak in the party atmosphere.

Start with a hearty bowl of Irish potato soup, a chunky mixture of potato, white cheddar, bacon and scallions. Or try some blarney potato chips and cross cultures with hummus, pico de gallo and chipotle ranch dips.

If you're a burger connoisseur, the Pickle Back features a Jameson Irish Whiskey glazed burger, maple-cured bacon, pepper jack cheese and, of course, pickles. Another popular pick is the Kiss Me, I'm Irish burger, topped with corned beef and cole slaw.

The Dubliner (chicken breast, bacon, cheddar and honey dijon) and the Bantry Bay Fish and Chips are some other tasty Irish options.

After dinner, the real fun begins. You'll party till the top of the mornin' with festive happy hour specials featuring half-price appetizers and drinks, leading into a nightlife vibe that includes dancing and even VIP bottle service options.

Watch the big game on any of the 40+ HDTVs, or chill around the patio fire pit. McFadden's at Town Square has a friendly staff and is the perfect spot for a private party, a group outing, or even a bachelor or bachelorette party.

Treat every day like St. Patrick's Day. Erin Go Bragh at McFadden's!

Tommy Bahama: Beachin'

Leave the desert in the dust, even if only for a few magic hours. Island enchantment is as near as a quick trip down the South Boulevard to Town Square, itself a world away thanks to an interior urban scene featuring restaurants, shops, a multiplex, street lights and street parking.

Among the tenants is the “Island,” aka Tommy Bahama. The beachy vibe reverberates through the menu and merchandise, dining room and comfy patio that overlooks, the actual Town Square.

The entryway takes you away. First is the shop full of resortwear, beach togs and south seas apparel, mostly favoring Bahama-esque pastels.

Men, check out the Flying Fishbone Flat-Front pants. Women, no matter what you choose, plan to add in some of the all too cool accessories here. Everybody, into the pool, with a colorful choice from the boffo swimsuit collection and slip into some stylish Bahama shades.

So with shopping in the bag, you then matriculate into the dining area. And now the desert really becomes just a distant memory. This is the land of airiness and light, golden sunset on the water hues, abundant greenery, tropical ceiling fans, lots of rattan . . . and a sea-side menu.

What to have, what to have. Well while the entrée decision tugs you, treat yourself to some “World Famous Coconut Shrimp,” so good on their own you hardly need the accompanying papaya-mango chutney and Asian slaw {but take them anyway}. The Macadamia Nut Encrusted Goat Cheese sings a bit of a siren song too, as does the fruit and nut Bungalow Salad.

Onward. The Bungalow Favorites lead off with a crowd favorite, the blackened fish tacos that shift into overdrive with tomato relish, chipotle aioli, lime sour cream and Asian slaw. This section is also where the Cuban sandwich and baby backs with blackberry brandy BBQ reside.

Or maybe you’d prefer chicken and mango salad, or roasted jerk chicken, or Hawaiian style black cod. All in all the menu offers a tasty cruise throughout the Caribbean.

Don’t forget dessert! Pina colada cake is a slice of island heaven, but then there’s also that malted chocolate pie that adds in mocha mousse and English toffee crumble to give wretched excess a good name.

And if you’re thinking, I’ll drink to that, well are you in luck. Along with more classic versions, specialty cocktails call on such flavors as pineapple, coconut, pomegranate, mango, banana, even jalapeno. Cheers.

In addition to store-side metered parking, there are also spacious lots offering free parking all around Town Square. Can’t miss this colorful complex at 6605 Las Vegas Boulevard South, on the southwest corner at Sunset Road.

Find Tommy Bahama adjacent to the Town Square, bound by North Street and South Street, Town Square East and Town Square West. The restaurant opens daily at 11am, and Island Time Happy Hour rolls out from 4pm-7pm. 702-948-8006, tommybahama.com.
